>The Department of Civil Engineering is proud to announce that Chad Fusco, >class of 2009, took first place in the Technical Paper Competition for the >North Central Student Conference of the American Society of Civil >Engineers (ASCE). The competition consisted of writing a research paper >and giving an oral presentation, followed by an intensive session of >questioning by the judges, on the topic of "Ethical Issues Surrounding >Infrastructure Privatization." Fusco's entry concentrated on the possible >mechanisms for solving ethical controversies such as the creation of >monopolies, the debate on globalization, and the engineer's obligation to >the public, as these issues pertain to infrastructure privatization. The >North Central Conference of ASCE, with an official membership of 13 >schools from Ohio and Michigan, convened for 2008 at Michigan State >University, April 4-6; the weekend also included steel bridge, concrete >canoe, and athletic competitions. Fusco was presented with a plaque and a >cash award for his achievement.
